REMNANT GRASSLANDS TOUR

Saturday 25 October 2014

A day with Grasslands – a tour of precious remnant native wildflower grasslands including a visit to the 'Grasslands' installation by Linda Tegg at the State Library of Victoria.

Led by John Delpratt,
Honorary Fellow in Horticulture, Burnley Campus with 25 years' experience of native grasslands.

- Start the day at the Burnley Campus with "a cuppa" and a short seminar on Melbourne's remnant grasslands, their history, ecology and current management
- Board the bus at Burnley and proceed to the State Library, Victoria to get acquainted with Linda Tegg's art installation - Grasslands. The plants were all grown at Burnley in the Field Station.
- Board the bus again and head to a remnant wildflower grassland site: Evans St in Sunbury, followed by lunch
- Please bring your own picnic lunch.
- After lunch, travel to the Western Plains Flora Nursery for a browse.
- On the way home visit the Merri Creek Ngarri-djarrang Grassland Reservoir for a tour with local guide.
- Back at Burnley, we explore the reconstructed grassland in Burnley Gardens Native Garden.

It promises to be a packed day, interest is high and as usual booking early is wise. Bookings close on October 20.
